President of South West Slopes
Merino Breeders Field Day

Steve Phillips

I would like to welcome everyone to the 2018 South West Slopes Stud Merino Breeders Field Day.

This event, held at the Harden Showground has become one of the largest gatherings of merino studs in Australia, with 56 studs displaying sheep, all in the one place on the same day.

Many thanks to our major sponsor Landmark and to all our other sponsors and supporters.

A big thank you to our secretary Kylie Baluch for her hard work and commitment, and to all the South West Slopes Merino Breeders committee.

Records continue to be broken for merino wool, mutton and lamb despite poor seasonal conditions across most of Eastern Australia. The merino is definitely the shining light in Agriculture and fingers crossed for a favourable spring.

The field day is a great opportunity for producers and interested parties to view the different genetics available to suit their enterprise. Also on display will be agricultural equipment and industry representatives along with our impressive fashion parade organised by Sheree Darmody. Many thanks to her.

The South West Slopes Merino Field Day is a day not to be missed by anyone in the merino industry and we look forward to seeing you there.

Regards,

Steve Phillips, President

Did you know... that lousy sheep cost the Australian Wool Industry over $123 Million dollars a year?

For a sheep producer this is a staggering price to stomach given the current wool and sheep market in Australia is booming.

Eradication of lice would save so many $$$$$.

If you have sheep lice this year you can bet you will have it next year. Particularly if the lice are left untreated or not treated correctly.

Infested sheep have evident behaviours of being lousy and will attempt to alleviate the irritation by scratching, rubbing, biting and pulling at their fleece. Typically you will be able to see the tell tale signs on fences around your property where the sheep have rubbed leaving their cotted wool.

By examining your sheep the classic signs to look for are matted fleece, fleece colour change, reduced appetite and body condition.

It only takes one neighbours sheep to enter your property and mix with your mob. It only takes one newly introduced sheep into the mob to spread the lice like wild fire.

Do yourself a favour and give us a call today and eliminate lice in our state of the art mobile sheep cage dip!

Ben Simmons - Return Judge

Ben Simmons resides in Dunedoo Central West NSW in partnership with his brothers who run the Talbragar Border Leicester Stud on the family's mixed farming enterprise, comprising of irrigated lucerne and prime lambs. Ben has worked full time at Langdene Merino Stud for the past 6 years.

He won the National Merino Junior Judging Event in 2011, and since then has judged at a number of shows and associated at ewe competitions as well as South West Slopes Field Day in 2011.

Graham Wells - Competition Judge

Graham Wells, co-founder of the One Oak Merino Studs, established in 1955 and Manager & Studmaster for the majority of their time as one of the leading Australian Studs, dispersed the studs and retired from breeding Merinos in 2014, following a most successful and influential career in Merino Stud breeding.

During his career Graham has been well known throughout the Merino Sheep countries of the world for the high quality of his stock, which consistently achieved leading results at the major Merino shows, throughout Australia. His clients have consistently proven the value of One Oak blood in wether & ewe trials.

Also throughout his career, Graham's foresight and innovation and has developed the fine-medium type Merino and the dual purpose Merino in Australia, both of which have proven of great value to the industry.

Graham's passion for the relevance, integrity and future of the Merino industry has seen him heavily involved in the technical committees at both NSW and National level.

He continues his involvement in genetic and performance research as a member of the steering committee of the Merino Lifetime Project, funded by AWI.

He has judged at the major shows in all states of Australia and New Zealand.

Jack Lawrence - Associate Judge

At just 22 years of age Jack is already in his 2nd year working for Egelabra Merino Stud and next year will be attending Marcus Oldham Collage to study Agribusiness.

He grew up on the family merino property 'Amoilla', 70kms north east of Hay NSW, and to this day still has a keen interest in the merino breed.

Jack attended Ballarat Grammar School for years 9-12.
